3/20/2022 8:05 PM	SYSTEM	Email	Re: StockX CRM:07450001856 Hello,Here are all the photos I have taken, sorry for the trouble.Thereis a noticeable difference between the material of the left shoe with the swoosh on the shoe being more coarse and less puffy compared to the right shoe, this also applies to the leather on the front of the shoe where the shoelaces go through.. The pores of the material for the shoes on the closeups even have a different texture to them when you look at it. I tried my best to get good pictures but I am not the best photographer, but actually seeing the physical shoes would make it even more noticeable. the purple leatherBest Regards,SpencerOn Sun, Mar 20, 2022 at 3:47 PM Spencer Tom &lt;[REDACTED]> wrote:Hello, my apologies for all the submissions, I will have all the photos necessary and attached to a reply to this email.Best Regards,SpencerOn Sun, Mar 20, 2022 at 3:40 PM support@stockx.com &lt;support@stockx.com> wrote:Hey Spencer,I am sorry to hear that you believe the item you received is not authentic. 3/21/2022 7:51 PM	Ryan Alawar	Email	Re: StockX CRM:07450001856 Hey Spencer, Thank you for the quick response. I do understand that this may not have been what you were expecting. We do always try to provide you with a pair that is up to your expectations but we do have to work with items that are cleared for retail release by the manufacturer. With that being said, the reason why this pair is acceptable per our deadstock condition standards is that Nike released these with the concerns you have pointed out.

			Please, keep in mind that we do state in our Deadstock FAQ that some pairs will pass "Deadstock" inspection despite having slight manufacturer flaws and imperfections that are uncontrollable. If you would rather return what you have received our team can review this pair along with the photos you have provided us and determine if this item should have passed our deadstock condition standards. If the item would pass again if resold we will return it back to you so you can sell the item if you would like. If the item does not meet our Deadstock standards we will provide you with a full refund. Due to being a Live Marketplace, our prices fluctuate and this is why we recommend listing your item at a price that you are comfortable with if you decide to resell. Typically we have a no return/exchange policy so this would be a one-time exception. Please feel free to follow up if you have any other questions or concerns. Thank you for your continued support with StockX! Best, Ryan
